Hunters' Instinct

tells him where to look for game---where it is likely to be found in abundance---and that is one of the reasons why he kills, but another reason is that a true sportsman never overlooks---is the selection of his fowling piece and the quality of the ammunition he uses. The best marksman will kill unless they use guns of the proper kind and that is why we exercise the greatest care in the selection of our guns and ammunition. We carry only the best makes and you can find at our store a better selection than can be found anywhere else in Dillon county.

The machine to be used is the "Belmont" of the biplane type. It is a Curtiss machine and the flights are given under the direction of the famous aviator Curtiss who has won world-wide reputation in aviation work. The machine is patterned after the Wright machine in so many particulars that suits are pending between the Wrights and Curtiss over patent rights.

The magnitude of the undertaking can be better appreciated when it is considered that heretofore flights have been undertaken only in the larger centres of population. Columbia was the first town in the State to have an aeroplane exhibition, Dillon is second and the third flight in the history of the State will be given in Charleston in January.

The size of the crowd that will witness Ely's flights here on the 20th is variously estimated at from six to ten thousand people. It is expected that half the population of the Pee Dee country will be here that day and Dillon is busy making arrangements to entertain the immense crowd. Enquiries are coming in by mail and telephone concerning the great event, asking for reservations at hotels and boarding houses, tickets of admission, etc., but as it is impossible to answer the inquiries in person the promoters of the event have requested The Herald to say that ac-

Bass-Hayes.

One of the prettiest home weddings seen in some time was the marriage of Miss Carrie Mae Hayes to Mr. Joe M. Bass, which was beautifully solemnized on Wednesday, November the 23rd.

The guests, numbering about a hundred, were met by Miss Lila Safford. The parlor was decorated with holly, ivy and yellow chrysanthemums. Between the windows a background of green was made and from which suspended a wedding veil. The parlor was decorated and lighted with candles in silver candelabras.

Lohengrin's wedding march with Miss Sheppard at the piano, announced the bridal party. First came the only attendants, Miss Annie Bounds, of Wilmington, N. C., with Mr. T. Bass, of Latta, then came the pretty bride on the arm of the groom and were married by Rev. Peeler, pastor of the bride. During the ceremony Miss Stafford played softly, "Then You'll Remember Me," and as Mendelssohn's march was played the party left at once in an automobile to the groom's home where elegant supper was served.

The bride wore a lovely tan silk hat and gloves to match. Miss Bounds a pretty soft green silk.

Mr. and Mrs. Bass were the recipients of many lovely and handsome presents.

The bride is an attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Rich Hayes and will be missed by her many friends.

We have all kinds of hand-painted novelties for Xmas. Call and see. Also any kind of decorations. The great Xmas great Xmas.

Card of Thanks.

Dear Mr. Editor:—You will please allow me through your paper to express my sincere thanks to my many friends for the kindness that they showed me during my wife's illness and death. May God's blessings rest upon them wherever they may be.

Sincerely,

Married, at the home of Mr. Hugh Harrelson on the 11th, Mr. A. Harrelson, of Bladen county, Miss Josie Jackson, of Dillon. Rev. H. Harrelson performing ceremony.

comodations will be provided for the crowd, that the flights will be made from the centre of the race track and that the crowd around the enclosure is large enough to give at least 750 spectators a clear and unobstructed view of the aeroplane flight.

The event is being extensively advertised in every paper in the Pee Dee section and circulars are being sent over a radius of 100 miles. It promises to be the event in the history of Dillon and everybody is looking to the occasion with interest.
